Next week our Year 6 superstars will be sitting their SATs tests. We wish them all good luck and know that they will try their very best. Our advice to Year 6 is to make sure you get plenty of sleep, eat breakfast every morning and make time each evening to relax.

Also taking part in their national tests over the next few weeks are the brilliant Year 2, who will complete tasks and tests in maths and English, and Year 1, who have their National Phonics Screen.

In support of all these children we will be turning the volume down a notch or two around the school. If you are visiting school in the coming weeks you will see notices gently reminding you to keep noise to a minimum. Thank you all in advance for your support of the children.

Whole School	Slipped a bit this week to 97.3% - pick it up again for next week, people!

Next week we will have the travelling book fair in school, selling books at discounted prices every day after school. The book fair will be on the forecourt, under the awning (or in the Bottom Hall, in the event of rain). There is usually a wide selection of books and genres, to appeal to readers at all ages and abilities. Don't forget to bring your purse!

GAME, SET AND MATCH!

Well done to Ciara, who has been successful in gaining a place at the National Tennis Centre Academy. Ciara recently played in a tournament which enabled children the opportunity to play on the courts at Wimbledon. She was delighted with her efforts and has great ambition to:

- be a ball girl at Wimbledon
- play at Wimbledon
- win Wimbledon

Ciara has definitely been applying QM's motto of Strive, Believe, Achieve! We are all extremely proud of you, Ciara, and we feel sure that you have a long and successful tennis career ahead of you.

Talk Homework

Have you come up against any hurdles recently? What helped you overcome them?

Value of the week: Resilience and self-belief

When you encounter a hurdle in life, you need to be able to bounce back. Believing you can is half the battle.

Please make sure your child's water bottle contains just water and do not send juice or squash in to school.

	Something French for the Weekend
	Bonne chance! Good luck!
